

F. PAUL PACULT'S SPIRIT JOURNAL

December 2008, Volume 18, Number 4

Dry Fly Vodka
(USA Dry Fly Distilling
Spokane, WA)
40% abv, $35

Flawless purity; clean as rainwater. The local grain base material is piquant, floral, and for wheat, surprisingly off-dry / sweetish, almost more like corn; additional air exposure brings out fragrances of sweetened breakfast cereal, faint vanilla, rose garden, and egg cream; a flirtatiously elusive bouquet that you can't stay away from. Entry is rich, creamy, and vanilla laden; midpalate carries on with the textural richness and the vanilla aspect goes into a charming bean-like mode. Aftertaste is intensely bittersweet and lean, a nice balance to the fat creamy entry and midpalate.

Spirit Journal Rating 2008:
★★★★ / Highly Recommended